UFW Foundation, community leaders join national immigration reform effort

Groups throughout the nation to hold events on June 1st

(Los Angeles, CA) - The UFW Foundation, sister organization of the United Farm Workers, community leaders and grassroots organizations in the San Joaquin Valley and the Salinas area will be joining the national campaign to Reform Immigration FOR America. The efforts seek to bring together public and civic, religious, labor and business groups across the nation to advocate for just and humane comprehensive reform legislation.

The UFW Foundation press conferences are part of a series of events, rallies and press conferences being held throughout the nation on June 1st. On Wednesday, June 3rd, UFW President Arturo S. Rodriguez and UFW Foundation Executive Director Diana Tellefson will be joining government officials and labor and religious leaders in Washington, D.C. for the official launching of the comprehensive reform campaign.
